

The top row contains three photographs of a roundabout. The leftmost photo shows a red octagonal stop sign on a metal pole, positioned at the edge of a concrete curb. The middle photo shows a grey octagonal yield sign on a metal pole, also at the curb. The rightmost photo shows the roundabout from a wider angle, with a white arrow painted on the asphalt pointing towards the center. In the background, there are trees, a fence, and some buildings.