Christoph,

Looking forward to seeing you tomorrow at 3 p.m. and spending some time with you at the reception. I have confirmed attendance of Marcus Jones, City Manager, Mayor Vi Lyles, and Tom Glick, Panthers team president.

For your planning purposes, either the Mayor or Marcus will say a few words regarding soccer in the Carolinas and Tom Glick will welcome the group and do the same. Once these introductions are complete, they will leave the meeting. Tom Murray, CEO of the CRVA and staff and Erik Powell and me from the Panthers will remain for the entire meeting.

We look forward to discussing this great event and the future of soccer in the Carolinas with you tomorrow.

Best regards,

Scott

James,

Great to meet you and your daughters today. I've noted our mutual interest in seeing some of the new facilities in Detroit (Little Caesars Arena and related entertainment zone, plus the changes at Ford Field. You said that Saturday the 17th is better for you. Let's be in touch to coordinate a joint visit. I'm in touch with the Olympia Sports (Red Wings, Tigers, District Detroit) people already. No contact yet with the Lions, but we can do that.

When you know your arrival time to Detroit better, let us know, and we'll fine tune things.

All the best,

Tom

Hi Scott.

I've just spoken with Chris Granger, President of Ilitch Sports (Tigers and Red Wings) about tomorrow. He is going to lead the tour personally and has recommended a different sequence.

There will be just a minor tweak which is that we will start at their Preview Center for District Detroit (the 50 blocks that the Ilitch family own and are developing). That center is at Comerica Park – the Tigers home. Same start time: 11am.

We'll spend 30 minutes there getting oriented and an overview of the whole master plan and then will walk to Little Caesar's Arena and see everything there – arena, mixed use development, Red Wings practice facility (underground).

All told, it will be two hours, so we can still grab lunch before heading over to Ford Field at 3pm.

Chris is sending the specific location of the preview center shortly.

Will you please inform our City of CLT guests of the new starting point.

Thanks,
